Extension of retirement age to 65

In terms of Section 5.2.1 of the City of Johannesburg Pension Fund's Rules, to which the Employer was a party, a member may elect to extend their retirement age from age 63 to age 65 by notifying the Employer after turning 62 and no later than nine months prior to turning 63.

Rule 5.2.1

A member who has reached age 55, or 45 years with 15 years of service, may retire on the last day of any month occurring before he reaches his normal retirement date, provided that, subject to the conditions of service applicable between himself and his employer, any member referred to in paragraph (a) of the definition of normal retirement date in Rule 1 shall have the option to extend his pensionable service from 60 to 63 years of age, or, if he is a member referred to in paragraph (b) of the definition of normal retirement date in Rule 1, from 63 to 65 years of age, provided he exercises such option in writing not earlier than 12 months but not later than 9 months before he attains his normal retirement date and provided further that if a member referred to in paragraph (a) of the definition of normal retirement date in Rule 1 after attaining the age of 59 changes from a post requiring retirement at 60 years to a post in which retirement at that age is not compulsory he shall have the option to extend his pensionable service applicable to members referred to in paragraph (b) of the said definition.

I hereby notify the Employer that I am exercising the above option and will be extending my retirement age to 65.

In terms of the above Rule, Employer consent is not required. However, the Employer is requested to acknowledge receipt of this notification.
